

“S4P” 2011 on RVIP N.B. Palmer will sample the red lines, which are drawn schematically here. East of 150° W station spacing will be adjusted so that the easternmost point is reached before running out of time to go to port.

Extension of sections toward the Continent are meant to reach the continental shelf or water shallower than ca. 400-500 meters.